

Name: Lance Noe

Current City: Des Moines, Iowa

Hometown: Adel, Iowa

Occupation/Career:

Lance Noe serves as the Director of the Center for Professional Studies, College of Business and Public Administration at Drake University. In that role he coordinates and develops specialized certificate and professional programming for public, nonprofit, and private sector organizations. He also serves as a member of the CBPA faculty teaching in the Drake Master of Public Administration program. His areas of teaching and research include public policy, environmental policy, grant writing, fund raising, state and local government, and human resources management.

Education:

Originally from Adel, IA, he pursued his education at Iowa State University, Drake University and Florida Atlantic University.

Personal:

He is married to Debbie Noe, a Job Market and Human Resources Consultant with Career Resources Group in West Des Moines. Debbie and Lance have a son, Caleb who is seven.